

Gliderol Old Box Type

This box type can have a receiver added to the box to the pins marked
RPB1
RPB2
For the push button trigger.

As for the power supply you have to put a separate one as there is only 7 volts available on the pins I have measured and don't like adding receivers to any other part of the boards unless there allocated to.

Just an OH&S thing, always do it legally.
Getting power off the transformer might be just too much for it, Who Knows?

